Six Local Runs To Go From Hudson Service

Hudson Bus Lines operating in Arlington for over 20 years has announced changes in its schedule sometime in March. The bus line which operates from Arlington Center to the Arlington Heights area is seeking a curtailment of six of its daily runs and all runs on Saturday and Sunday.

At a hearing with the Board of Selectmen, Monday night, Kenneth Hudson of Hudson Bus Lines told members that he wished to drop the runs leaving Arlington Center at 7:15, 11:15 and 11:45 a.m. and 12:15, 12:45 and 6:15 p.m.

T. Mgr. To Review Sewerage Plans

The matter of installing sewer and water lines in connection with the addition to Symmes Hospital was referred to the Town Manager, so that he might discuss it with the hospital before an agreement could be reached.

This is the first change requested by the bus lines in five years. Mr. Hudson stated that he plans to eliminate all Saturday and Sunday service. The proposed change in the schedule is due in March and the final approval has yet to be approved by the Department of Public Utilities.

Mr. Hudson explained to the members of the board that he would have to take further action if things became worse.

He explained that the passenger load is too light at this time and the trip, through the Heights must take in at least $2.50 to break even. At this point, the present run isn't providing enough to pay the driver.

Selectmen expressed concern over the possibility that school children might be affected by the elimination of the 7:45 run.

Mr. Hudson assured him that if the 7:45 run wouldn't handle this situation, adjustments would be made.

THOUGH appearing calm, Ray Forrest (center) hotly explains to the Board of Selectmen, his reasons for opposing the extension of Railroad ave. Looking on is Town Counsel, Joseph Purcell.

Diesel Bus Bill Filed By Rep. Khachadorian

A hearing will be held in Room 207 of the State House, Monday at 10 a.m., on the controversial Harvard Sq. tunnel bus proposal.

House Bill 185, filed by Representative Gregory Khachadorian of Arlington, would direct the installation of vents in the Harvard Sq. tunnel to permit the operation of M.T.A. diesel buses.

Controversy over this question has continued for a number of years. Arlington State and Local officials have led the request for some alleviation to a problem which causes local commuters to stand outside in Harvard Sq. while awaiting transportation to Arlington.

The operation of the diesel buses through the tunnel was one proposed solution while the possible construction of a shelter was the alternative.

Following is the Bill submitted by Representative Khachadorian:

An Act authorizing the Metropolitan Transit Authority to install ventilating equipment in the vehicular tunnels at Harvard Station for the purpose of permitting the operation of diesel buses through said Station.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

Section 1. For the purpose of providing adequate ventilation in the vehicular tunnels at Harvard station and permitting the operation of diesel buses through said station, the metropolitan transit authority is, notwithstanding any provision of general or special law or any zoning or other ordinance to the contrary, hereby authorized and directed to install and operate a zipper duct in each of said vehicular tunnels in the manner recommended in a report submitted to said authority on March fifteen, nineteen hundred and sixty-one by Melvin W. First, consulting and research engineer.

Section 2. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Man Arrested In Car Theft

A suspiciously parked car last week led to the arrest of a man involved in a recent Boston car theft.

Parked on Boulevard rd., the car was spotted by the route officer and found to have been stolen in Boston on Jan. 29.

The vehicle was placed under police surveillance, leading to the apprehension of the thief, who was later turned over to Boston police.

APPLICATION of Joseph Mitchell for a hackney carriage to be operated from a stand at the intersection of Mass. ave. and Orvis rd. was approved by Selectmen.

Board Vote OK's RR Ave. Layout; Still Needs Town Meeting Approval

Selectmen this week voted a three to two decision in favor of the proposed layout of an extension of Railroad ave. to Water st. The vote came in executive session after a hearing with residents from Water st., Russell st. and terr., and Mass. ave.

At the start of the meeting Chairman of the Board Horace Homer stated that the matter had been in deliberation for two years and the only solution was the extension of Railroad ave. to Water st. in order to accommodate the growing traffic problem in the Center.

Ray Forrest, spokesman for the residents, said that the proposed change would bring more traffic into the Water st. area to add to an already existing "bottle-neck".

He went on to say that "the parking problem is caused by cars owned by people not living in Arlington."

Attorney Francis Keefe representing the Harvard Trust Co. stated that the bank is willing to go along with the development.

Forrest said that he wasn't opposed to the progress. He feels however, that the traffic resulting from the extension would only add to the woes of the residents who own land there.

One of the residents pointed out, "if you can take Forrest's land, then you can take the railroad land and make another crossing to extend Railroad ave. onto Russell terr."

Moving to the defensive, Homer pointed out that the Boston and Maine Railroad wouldn't allow another crossing, where there are now three existing.

Forrest, a member of the Arlington Police Dept. offered a few traffic changes that he felt would solve the problem without the extension, and stated that "since Harvard Trust is being assessed and I am assessed, then why not the Railroad?"

In answer to this question, Town Counsel, Joseph Purcell was called in and said "the railroad would receive no benefit and does not need to be assessed."

Forrest said in reply, "Gentlemen, put yourselves in our place," to which Mr. Greeley replied, "You try putting yourselves in our places, we understand your problem, and we want what is right for all concerned."

The matter will now be acted on at the Town Meeting.

Local Girl Scouts Protest Move, Take Action To Keep Charter

Arlington Girl Scout leaders are "up in arms" over the information which has come from the Board of Directors of the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., Inc., noting that at a meeting held last week in New York, the Administration of Girl Scouting in Arlington had been transferred to the Mistick Side Girl Scout Council, Inc., 33 Ship ave., Medford.

In a release to this paper on the matter the local Girl Scout organization stated:

"History repeats itself. In 1967 the colonists in Hartford, Connecticut, hid their charter in the cavity of an ancient oak to prevent its removal by order of King James of England. This week, in Arlington, the spirit of these colonists showed itself as local Girl Scouts searched for an oak tree in which to preserve their charter for another year, since word has been received here that the jurisdiction of the Arlington Girl Scouts is no longer under the Arlington Council but with the Mistick Side Girl Scout Council."

"Mr. Albert W. Wunderly, legal counsel for the Arlington Girl Scouts, Inc., declares that the charter issued by the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., which this corporation holds, is valid until its date of expiration in December 1963, and that any change in management of Girl Scouting in Arlington is needless."

"For the past several months the Arlington Girl Scouts, Inc., has been under pressure to join the Mistick Side Girl Scout Council which includes North Reading, Reading, Wakefield, Woburn, Burlington, Melrose, Stoneham, Winchester, Malden, Medford, Everett and Somerville. The entire adult membership of the Arlington Girl Scouts feels that this trend toward big business tends, to become top-heavy, and that the needs of the Girl Scout herself are lost in the frenzy for such management.

"Many other councils, both in Massachusetts and elsewhere throughout the United States have been invited into large area councils and have found to their dismay that such reorganization has proven more costly and far less efficient."

"February is the birthday month of two great Americans who believed in freedom from unfair domination and inhuman rights. With this in mind, the Arlington Girl Scouts, Inc., is determined to stand by its legal right to operate under the charter issued to it in January 1962 and due to expire in December 1963."

"Since 1921 charter requirements, as established by the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., have been rigidly maintained by Arlington Girl Scouts. There is no reason why Arlington girls should not continue to be served by a local council that has their personal and immediate needs at heart."

Hard To Recover

An excited localite last week reported to police that his car had been stolen from outside his home.

Disillusionment resulted from police investigation, which showed that the car had not been stolen, but had been repossessed by its backer.

TOWN MANAGER Edward C. Monahan, who has been absent from his desk since early December because of illness, will return to work Tuesday.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE has been established within the Chamber of Commerce to study the possible sale of the Old Town Yard.

Elks Sponsor Scholarships

Past Exalted Ruler James Wilson, chairman of the Arlington Lodge of Elks Committee of the Elks National foundation this week announced the local lodge will again this year accept applications for the foundation scholarship awards for the "Most Valuable Student".

Seventy-one awards will be made to boys totaling $55,000 and the same number of awards will be made to girls for a total of $110,000.

First award is 1,500 scholarship prize for each, with a graduating scale to the seventy-first scholarship prize of $703 for each boy and girl. All awards are at a national level. The deadline date is Feb. 26.

Local schools have been advised of the contest. However any Arlington or Belmont resident who is a student in the graduating class of a high or college preparatory school, or in any undergraduate class (except senior) of a recognized college,

Alarm Systems Not Endorsed - F.D.

In the past few weeks the office of the Fire Chief has received many inquiries by telephone regarding the installation of fire alarm systems in homes.

The installation of fire alarm devices in dwellings provides increased protection for the occupants, however, Fire Chief John E. Canniff emphatically states that the Arlington Fire Department never endorses or recommends any specific product to the general public, nor is the department ever so represented.

Further, when a member of the Arlington Fire Department makes any inspection, whether in homes or places of business, he is always in full dress uniform.

6-0 Victory Over Rindge Gives AHS 3-Way GBI Tie

After a slow start in Saturday's GBI action against Rindge, AHS stickmen chalked up their eighth win of the season downing that team 6-0, and moved into a crowded second place berth in league standings.

Locals were held scoreless in the first period, but carried in an odd 3 for each of the remaining cantos. High scorer in the contest with two goals was Bob Fredo.

At the 3:40 mark of the second period, ice was broken for a shut out by DeCaprio, who scored on an assist from Carr. The score was jacked one more two and a half minutes later, when Clarke zeroed in and tallied with the assist going to Fredo.

Near the end of the second round, Fredo drove in his number one of the game on assists from Clarke and Toczykowski.

With an attempted defense from Rindge in the final period, Arlington skated through three more goals. The first came at 1:09 when Fredo brought in his second of the game, again assisted by Clarke and Toczykowski. Rindge skaters didn't know which way to turn as AHS piled up the goals. Cappello made his marker at 1:39, scoring from DeCaprio. One minute and three seconds remained when opportunist Arlington got its final break of the game. Three spares made the end tally, as Ronan dented the net with assists from Gammel and Sarton.

Arlington High is now only one game off the strongly defended Brookline record. After Brookline tied with second place Medford, both teams dropped their standings, and Arlington moved into a three-way tie for second under Brookline.

Two teams up with the locals are Medford and Newton, a couple of strong clubs that could make the action go in any direction.

AHS has the distinction of being second highest scorer in the GBI, topped by fifth place Waltham which lost contention in a loss to Newton.

Waltham, however, still has its pride, and anything could happen when they clash with the locals Saturday.

N. E. BOAT SHOW

More than an acre of boats and other nautical attractions will be on display at Boston's Commonwealth Armory when the 7th Annual New England Boat Show gets underway on February 16-24.

The Boat Show, third largest in the country, will feature more than 200 boats ranging in size from the Queen of the Show, a 35-foot Owens 'Maracaibo' Yacht Sportsedan, to tiny dinghies. Boat enthusiasts will find in-board and outboard cruisers, runabouts, canoes and a variety of sailboats.

The nine-day show is endorsed by the New England Marine Trade Association. Hours are from 1 to 10:30 p.m. daily and from 1 to 8 p.m. on Sundays.

A special feature this year will be an exhibit by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration highlighting a full-size model of the astronaut Mercury capsule.

A C.Y.O. Communion Breakfast for high schoolers will be held Sunday in the St. Agnes Grammar School Hall after the 9:30 Mass. After a breakfast of coffee and doughnuts an interesting program is planned.

FIDELITY HOUSE NOTES

A C.Y.O. Dance will be held Feb. 8, 8 to 11 p.m. All high schoolers are invited to attend this social occasion sponsored by and for the older youth.

Mother-Son Dinner

Fidelity House will hold its 7th Annual Mother and Son Dinner on Feb. 11. For some 500 mothers and sons the highlights of the evening will be a dinner prepared and served by the Friends of Fidelity House (chicken pot pie), special entertainment the awarding of St. Agnes' Trophies for Boys of all ages. If you are an eligible son invite Mom today and get your tickets by 5 p.m. Feb. 9.

Intramural Basketball

In a week ago Monday's game a hot B.U. team won its fourth straight, defeating Holy Cross 11 to 6. Diaz scored 5 for the winners, while Ernst paced the losers with 4. In the other game B.C. downed first place Yale 13 to 8.

In a week ago Wednesday's game the last place Nats were ahead of the Celtics 10 to 5 at halftime and went on to win 26 to 20 in spite of a Celtics comeback. Kennedy was high for the Celts with 9, while Toland scored 11 for the Nats. In the other game the luckless Warriors lost to a fast Laker team 37 to 12. Only one more set of games remains in this league before Trophy playoffs begin.

The St. Agnes' Cadets beat St. Patrick's of Stoneham at Stoneham by a score of 29 to 26 on Feb. 1. The Cadets led almost all the way and held off a late St. Patrick spurt. Burchill was high for St. Agnes with 12 points. Al Palumbo and Ed Mulcahey tossed in five points each. The Cadets now have a record of 3 wins 2 losses.

Pool Tournery

Six teen boys competed in the monthly Hi Fi Pool Tournery Jan. 25. After 2 rounds Sam Collins, Paul Heath and Jerry Boyle had advanced to the finals. Then Sam defeated both Paul and Jerry in 8-ball pool to win the Tournery and a free hour of pool.

9 Goals and One On Pee Wee Sides

The rich get richer and the poor get poorer, and that's the case in the Park Department's Pee Wee Hockey League race this week. The Canadiens, Black Hawks and Red Wings scored a total of nine goals while the opposition could tally but one among them.

As a result the three top teams are knotted at the top of the League standing with 10 points each. No one else is within shouting distance at this point.

The Hawks blanked the Bruins 3-0 to stay on top with the Wings and Canadiens. The Bruins were stubborn and held the high scoring Hawks in check until halfway through the game. Bill Corkery, the hustling Hawks forward, broke the ice with some nifty stick-handling and a high backhand shot into the strings. Bill Shea, the league's leading scorer, added two more after taking passes from Tom Fitzgerald and Neil Harrington. Kenny Bruggin, the quick moving Hawks' goal tender, again thwarted several Bruin chances.

Not to be outdone by the Hawks, the Red Wings rolled on with a 4-1 drubbing of the Leafs. Bob Green was the big man for the Wings with two goals. One was a 20 foot blast that caught the corner of the net. Bob Feliciano picked up an assist on Green's first tally. Tom Kletjian gained an assist on Curtin's goal. Johnny Jackson played a sharp game in the Wing's net.

Howell Called 'Backbone'

Harry Howell has been an important member of Harvard's hockey team from the time he first appeared in the lineup two seasons ago.

The former Arlington High star moved into a starting berth as a sophomore during the 1960-61 season and has been the backbone of the Crimson's strong defense ever since.

"Howell has given us three good years of hockey," says coach Cooney Weiland. "He's probably the best stick handling defenseman there is in the East and he's one of the most consistent players on the squad."

Weiland's teams have always concentrated on defensive performance. Last year the Crimson had the finest defensive record in the East, allowing only 56 goals in its 27 games. This year Harvard has allowed 32 goals in 12 games while scoring 65.

Weiland considers Howell one of his top penalty killers. "He's an excellent skater and is a good man to have on the ice when you're short handed," Weiland comments.

"He has a long reach and breaks up a lot of plays," Weiland says.

In his pre-season planning Weiland considered moving Howell to forward. Although he's been a defenseman for his two and a half years at Harvard, the Arlington product collected 14 points as a sophomore and 12 last season. In Harvard's 12 games to date he already has 10 points.

"Howell is a good passer," Weiland says. "He gets a lot of assists with his accurate passes up-ice to the forwards. I thought of moving him to forward but he's too valuable on defense. I'd rather keep the defense intact."

Howell skates with senior Ron Thomson (Minneapolis, Minn.) and the two have been pressed into extra action during the January activity. Harvard's All-America defenseman Dave Johnston (Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.) has been sidelined with mononucleosis and didn't play during the month.

The Crimson carried an 8-2-2 overall record into the mid-year examination break and was ranked as the East's number four team in the mid-season hockey coach's poll. In the Ivy League the Crimson is 2-0-1.

Arlington High Runners Edged By N. Quincy

A 3-point edge took away Arlington's chance for a fifth place tie as the locals bowed to North Quincy 40 to 37 in the Met Track Loop's Division II Saturday.

Two of the four first places, taken by Arlington were run by Kelly. He won the 300 with a 38.9 second time, followed up by team-mates Tiede and Nevada in second and third.

The 600 was also taken by Kelly, clocking 1:23.8. Second and third positions were run by Moore and Maher of N. Quincy.

Opponents started toward their five first-placings in the 1,000 as Cadger made the win with 2:35 for N. Quincy, under-paced for placings by Arlington's Willons, second, and Simonds.

Mile-runner Nacher of Quincy took that event with a time of 4:53.7. Frechette placed second and locals, third was gained by Seery.

The high-jump went most of the way to Arlington, with Tierney and Webb clearing the 5 feet, 10 in. pole to tie for first, and Kelly placing number three.

Freyer did the hurdles in 6.6 to win for Arlington, and the locals gained a third from Tierney. Second place went to Quincy's Lister.

A 5.9 second dash was won by Shaughnessy and a second berth was gained by D'Antonio for Arlington. Position three went to Webb of Quincy.

Bill Glynn threw the sphere 42 feet 6 1/2 ins. taking the shot-put distance for Arlington, followed up by team-mate DiStefano. Third place went to Lister of Quincy.

Final event of the match was taken by Quincy's relay team of Shaughnessy, Nihen Lister and Moore with a 3:02.8 time.

WILLIAM J. MCCARTHY

A solemn requiem high Mass was sung recently in the Church of St. Agnes, for William J. McCarthy of 65 Falmouth rd. He died suddenly at home on Jan. 30.

Mr. McCarthy, a veteran of the Yankee Division of the United States Army, World War I, was a resident of Arlington for the past 40 years.

He leaves his wife, Mary A. (Cody) of Arlington. Interment was in St. Paul's Cemetery with committal prayers by Rev. McLaughlin.

RICHARD O'NEILL

Richard O'Neill, 22 Farrington st., died Feb. 1.

Surviving is his wife Phyllis M. (Rowland), children Russell and Ernestine, and brothers Dudley and Everett Letson.

Funeral services were held from the D. W. Grannan and Son Funeral Home, 378 Mass. ave., Sunday at 3 p.m.

Mr. Letson was a Veteran of W.W. I.

A Fisherman's Premonition of Spring

The signs of Spring are many.
You observe them here and there.
In the bursting pussy willow
And the balmy scented air.

But to me the surest sign ---
Prophecy of age I fear,
Is the lack of concentration
At this season of the year.
As I bone a juicy sirloin,
Or cut a slice of steak,
Before me comes a picture
Of a much frequented lake.

While in the pew on Sunday,
As the minister exhorts,
In fancy I'm transported
Where a mountain stream cavorts.

Gurgling over boulders,
Flecked with floating foam,
Swirling under tree roots,
Where the speckled beauties roam.

Forgot the prophet's warning
To the erring sons of men,
For at Nature's out door altar
I am worshipping again.

Even in the class room,
As I'm taking down my notes,
I can see the dancing ripples
Where my "Morning Glory" floats.

I'm sure that Spring is coming,
Sure as mortal man can be,
For it's only at this season
That these visions trouble me.

ALFRED B. CRAFT
31 Newland rd.

Winter Twilight

Along the winter skylines
Crowning the rocky crest
Stands the tall sentinel pines
Against the glowing west.

The scarlet robe of autumn
Has faded and been put away
God's mystic earth is fairer still
A Puritan in gray.

Now the stars of evening brighten
They are the Pilgrims sign.
In western skies they lighten
Like lamps before a shrine.

As we marvel at their glory
Above the eternal hills,
Belief in God's creation story
Our hearts and spirits fill.

ALFRED B. CRAFT
31 Newland rd.

RUSSELL L. LETSON

Russell L. Letson, 120 Everett st., died Feb. 1.

Surviving is his wife Phyllis M. (Rowland), children Russell and Ernestine, and brothers Dudley and Everett Letson.

Funeral services were held from the D. W. Grannan and Son Funeral Home, 378 Mass. ave., Sunday at 3 p.m.

Mr. Letson was a Veteran of W.W. I.

REHEARSALS CONTINUE

The rehearsals for Arlington Post 39 forthcoming Irish Show are continuing at Legion Hall.

Any member of the Legion wishing to take part in the performance can come to the Hall on Sunday or Thursday evenings at 7:30.

The show will be presented on March 16-17 at the high school auditorium, with a special show for children on March 16 at 2 p.m.

ABANDONED VEHICLE

In Municipal Parking Lot was discovered to be a vehicle stolen in Medford a few days ago.

TWELVE JUNKED BATTERIES were stolen from Cities Service Center on Mass. ave.; total value was $10.

Holy Name Society

The Immaculate Conception Parish Holy Name Society of No. Cambridge, Somerville and Arlington will hold its annual Fathers and Sons Communion Sunday, Feb. 10.

Mass will be celebrated at 8:00 a.m. by Rev. Alfred A. Mullen, spiritual director for the Society.

At the end of the Mass the sons will join their fathers at the meeting to be held in the school auditorium, to honor Edward Pasqual, scoutmaster of Arlington who was presented the St. George Medal for outstanding service to scouting for the past 35 years.

Entertainment will be by a group of boys from the Parish who have formed an orchestra and call themselves "Gabriel" and His Angels.

The scholarship committee, with Alfred Murphy of Arlington, chairman, will announce plans for the drive to raise funds to support the program through which eight boys, sons of active Holy Name members, receive financial assistance during their four years in high school.

A series of Sunday movies for the children will be shown during Lent.

Red and Gray Jottings

by Connie Mugaal

The Dramatic Club is holding tryouts during this week for the production of Arsenic and Old Lace. The club will enter the second act of this comedy into the Massachusetts Drama Festival, to be held in March.

For the entire day, the plays will be performed, representing several high schools in Greater Boston. The plays run through until noon time when a luncheon is served. Then, the plays continue until the evening. The judges choose a winner, based upon the merits of each play and its players.

The Library Corps is planning for their annual book fair, during Feb. 11-14. The choice of paperbacks will include everything from science fiction and college handbooks to the latest best seller.

The Science Club is busy preparing for its fourth annual Science Fair. The fair will be held in March. During the next few weeks, the entrants will be planning their projects.

Seniors and juniors attended an assembly held on Feb. 4, with guest speaker, Torbert Macdonald, congressman for the 7th district. Congressman Macdonald gave an informative talk concerning his travels in the Far East. He mentioned the poor conditions in India and the Indo-China border war. After his discussion, the students asked him questions.

This year's representative to the Betty Crocker Home-maker of Tomorrow will be Miss Patti Brennecke who was recently chosen from Arlington High school to compete in the state contest sponsored by General Mills.

SCIENTIST TO SPEAK

Dr. Arthur Kantrowitz, director of research at Avco Manufacturing Co., will speak at the meeting of the Unitarian Laymen's League Sunday, Feb. 10 at 7 p.m.

"Communication Between Science and Society" will be his topic, and he will comment upon the responsibility of the scientist, or lack of responsibility, in extending social usefulness within our culture.

Unbeaten CYO Takes Rest

St. Agnes Fidelity House hockey team finished first in the Northern Division of the C.Y.O. League by beating
Our Lady's of Belmont 2-0
Sunday at Boston College.

The locals completed the season with a mark of 6 wins and a single tie.

The next competition will be against the winners of the Southern Division in the CYO Playoffs that begin in two weeks.

The intra-mural All-stars were edged out by their fathers, Saturday 2-1. Mrs.

Bartholomew coached the Stars and Mrs. Heavorn coached the Dads.

Fran Briand fired into the open net in the closing seconds after Mrs. Heavorn had taken out the goal-tender in the closing minutes to give the Dads the triumph.

St. Agnes Flyers draw a bye in the Art Ross League tournament. The Flyers meet the alumni Saturday at the Boston Skating Club. The contest will start at 5:30 p.m. and will feature former stars of Arlington high and St. Agnes.

ZONTA CLUB

At a recent meeting of the Zonta club the service and scholarship committee reported, awards had been presented to two Arlington, High school graduates.

They are Miss Virginia
Burke of 80 Newport st., a freshman at Fitchburg State College and Miss Evelyn Oley 64 Highland ave., Arlington, a freshman at Boston College School of Education.

The committee has also been working on a new project with Mrs. Woods of the Metropolitan State hospital collecting cigarettes, wearing apparel, cosmetics and jewelry and have made a substantial contribution to the Xmas packages for the patients.

Individual members of the club have given time assisting patients who are unable to do for themselves. Plans are being made for further activities at the hospital this spring.

Zonta International, of which the Arlington club is a very active member, is a women's service organization, and has a record of outstanding achievement in the field of service and education.

ter and a relative standing in the upper 5 per cent of the applicant's class are necessary to make the group that will be given final consideration.

Wilson announced the local lodge's entries will be handled by Gene Hurd a member of the lodge's Youth
Activity committee.

Exalted Ruler Clifford also this week announced the winners in the Metropolitan Dis-division. Both are students

Delivery Drivers Cited For Safety

Benjamin L. Moltman of Stevens, ter., circulation manager of the Boston Herald-Traveler, was master of ceremonies at a dinner Tuesday night when drivers of the two newspapers were saluted for a record of a year, entirely free of accidents.

The 90 drivers were awarded pins and tie clasps.

Leading the accolade to the men was Public Safety
Commissioner Frank S.
Giles.

He pointed out that newspaper delivery vehicles operate largely under difficult traffic conditions in metropolitan areas.

Giles said that 700 persons were killed in auto accidents in Massachusetts during 1962, plus 100,000 injured with costs totalling more than $100 million.

Hubert B. Wall, safety engineer of the insurance company which covers the Herald-Traveler, emphasized the fact that there will be a 74 per cent benefit in the insurance rate due to the "remarkable record."

CARL H. BUNKER
Carl H. Bunker, a resident on Hillside ave. for over 51 years, died Feb. 4 at a nursing home in Cohasset, at the age of 93.

Mr. Bunker is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Edna C.
Brooks Jr. of Connecticut;
Mrs. Nellie F. Revell of Cochituate; and a son, Carl Jr.
of Buffalo, New York; seven grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Mr. Bunker served on the Arlington Board of Public Works for eight years and as a Town Meeting member for several years.

He was a member of Hiram Lodge A.F. and A.M. for 44 years and a charter member of Russell Lodge A.F. and A.M.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday, Feb. 6,
by Rev. Wilbur D. Canaday
Jr. of the Park Avenue Congregational Church.

Interment was at Mount
Auburn Cemetery.

Sniff, Salamander, Steam—But Fire?

Local firefighters responded to three different alarms last Thursday, Friday and Monday, finding each to have been mistakenly reported by watchful citizens.

A box located at Spy Pond pkwy. and Roanoke rd. rang out the Fire Dept' Thursday afternoon, after Mrs. George McNiff reported she smelled smoke in her house at 2
Roanoke rd. Firemen searched the dwelling, but found no fire.

As dead as it was, a fish was the villain Friday, when neighbors sounded the alarm for a fire at a house under construction at 381 Ridge st.,
owned by Leon Lombard of 7
Dudley st.

Legalized Piracy

The American flag, the proudest on the seas when the United States was young and poor and struggling, is soon to disappear from all but Naval vessels — unless the greed and ruthlessness of 18 competing seafaring unions can be brought under control. For 15 strike-studded years Congress has sought by larger and larger subsidies to purchase peace on the high seas only to prove there is no saturation point for avarice.

"The direct weekly pay of an unlicensed seaman aboard US flag ships working 40 hours, with the 16 hours overtime required by the unions," writes Robert S. Strother in the February Reader's Digest, "runs about $175. . . . Benefits — 60 day annual vacations, retirement allowances, etc. — can raise the 'keep' of a seaman to $10,000 a year. Masters get around $1,500 a month, or almost as much as a four-star Navy admiral. Chief engineers get $1,300."

But this is not all. "Overmanning", at these ruinous costs and by as much as 50 percent above reasonable need, is a widespread union practice, says Mr. Strother. Since any union can strike at any time without penalty and delay sailings at will — and there are four to six unions represented on every ship — the operators have no control over their own vessels and can only watch disgruntled shipmen send their cargoes to foreign flag ships.

As Mr. Strother calls the score on "Our Strike-Strangled Merchant Marine", US flag ships carried two-thirds of our trade in 1946, and only 10.5 percent of it by 1960. While the total of the world's ships over 1,000 deadweight tons rose from 15,615 to 17,426 in the past five years, our own dropped 25 percent — to a total of 900 ships, most of which were about ready for scrapping. And only 45 percent of this US tonnage is in use, while 350 US-owned vessels have sought economic sanctuary under "flags of necessity" — the colors of Panama and Liberia! All this at a time when our foreign trade has been expanding.

Plainly our "fourth arm of national defense" is rotting away. And, as this writer has pointed out, Congress has failed to stop the infection with transfusions of tax money — currently at the rate of about $300 million a year — and the crisis is at hand. Will Congress or the Executive Department have the stomach for sterner measures?

Small Reward

An individual before becoming an A.Y.A. manager or coach must first contact the baseball director in order to fill out an application form. After completing application, it is returned to the baseball director wherein he and the Executive Committee will review application and interview respective manager or coach. After their approval of the applicant he is then appointed to a team.

Before tryouts, the manager must inspect all equipment which includes team uniforms, bats, balls and catchers equipment. The managers pre-season practices consist of forming a team of 18 ballplayers. After the team is formed they prepare for their opening game of the season. They then go on to play a 14 game schedule with an All-Star game midway through the season.

The managers and coaches spend countless hours both on and off the field toward bettering the youth of our town, yet in return have no reward except the thought of a job well done.

Praises Board

To the editor,
I received with pleasure the Arlington "Comprehensive Plan-Summary Report" and have read it with great interest. It is a handsome and lucid volume, of which the Planning Board and its professional consultants and its central message seems to be that Arlington should preserve, enhance and enlarge its amenities for practical as well as esthetic reasons.

Professional planning is a complex business which lies outside the everyday concerns and knowledge of the general public, including the Town Meeting membership. I believe that the citizens of Arlington and especially Town Meeting Members need information and education, not just on specific items, but also on the overall purposes of planning; its potentialities and its limitations. Simply reading the plan and the related warrant items does not seem to me sufficient preparation for sound judgment.

For months I have been hoping to see progress reports about the Plan in the local press. It seems to me of utmost importance that an educative and explanatory job be done before March Town Meeting.

Three years as a Town Meeting Member have convinced me that the climate for planning in Arlington is a variable one. Many members do not even understand the purposes and uses of professional planning. Others are misinformed or openly hostile. As a result, decisions are sometimes made on an emotional basis, and even on the spur of the moment.

Two specific approaches suggest themselves: 1—frequent press releases prior to Town Meeting; and 2—explanation of the Plan at Precinct Meetings.

Again, may I compliment you on the work done to date and hope that it will indeed be a vital and continuing guide for the future of Arlington.

Very truly yours,
Phyllis C. Paskauskas
Town Meeting Member,
Precinct 10

To the editor,
During the past year your newspaper, your editors, and the members of your staff have been most cooperative in publishing information of interest to the veterans and their families.

Without the coverage that you have extended to the veterans, they would not have been properly appraised as to programs of vast importance to them.

Your understanding and complete support has not only been appreciated by us but also by the veterans themselves.

Very truly yours,
Charles N. Collatos
Commissioner
Veterans' Services

To the editor,
To those of us who take pride in our community, the spirit and work of the Arlington Fair Housing Committee is a matter of considerable importance.

We take pride that our town is conveniently situated, has a fine library, superior school system, handsome town hall, lovely park, and many more attributes I might name.

Most of our citizens are keenly on the alert to keep our town clean and beautiful, a healthy environment in which to raise our children.

As part of our deep concern for the beauty and excellence of Arlington, we cannot ignore its heart, whereby the true worth of a community is measured.

A tradition of kindness, neighborliness, and co-operation, a reputation for open heart and hand—these are the most important elements in a town's beauty. Without this spirit, lovely looking streets and buildings comprise a beauty that is skin-deep, a sham, a false facade, hiding meanness and degradation.

We who would jealously guard our fine traditions of freedom and fair play, would say to all visitors and would be neighbors, "Welcome, friends. We love our town, and we're sure that you will like it, too. If you come in the spirit of neighborliness and co-operation and share in our concern for the beauty of our common home—this is all we ask of you."

"We care not what may be your religion, your politics, nor the color of your skin. These are all your business, not ours. So welcome, neighbor."

For us to act less hospitably would be to deny the spirit of our religion, betray the principles on which our country was founded, to mar and demean our town.

So here's to an ever-fairer Arlington.

Rev. Guy W. Meyer,
Chairman Arlington Fair Housing Committee

Dear Editor:
In a recent issue of the Arlington News an article appeared from the AYA that deserves high praise.

The Rules Committee of the AYA in setting down the rules and regulations for their coaches and managers included what was referred to as "a morality clause". These men, in so doing, eloquently expressed their serious interest in youth with these singular, well defined goals.

It is commendable that, building a vigorous, competitive baseball league, these youth leaders are more concerned with setting standards of good sportsmanship, fair play and also teaching youngsters a sense of discipline, honesty and unselfishness.

The community owes so much to Anthony Quatrochi and his managers and coaches and all volunteers, who spend so many hours in the interest of

To the editor:
It was a refreshing experience to attend the finance committee meeting which took place Jan. 4. Especially considering that these men are not paid and volunteer their services. They were courteous, co-operative and sympathetic. Perfect gentlemen.

The issues were: Proposed article no. 84, which provides for the taking and, or purchase of certain land located between the Locke school and the rear of buildings facing Mass. ave. Between Park ave. and Davis rd.

Proposed article no. 85, which provides for grading, surfacing, painting markings and installing meters to provide off-street parking for approximately 55 vehicles.

The privately owned land has three individual owners. The school land, most of which is not being utilized, constitutes the greater part of this area. The size would be approximately 45 feet in width by 322 feet.

Anthony Caterino, currently running for Selectman, presented the article. It was evident that he had spent considerable time acquiring his information, most of which was provided by the Town engineer's office.

There was no problem convincing the committee of the vital need for off-street parking in this area. They were obviously aware of this acute problem.

The businessmen present, each in his own way, made some statement to the effect that something should and must be done.

There was no effort made to recruit a large attendance in order to impress the committee. It was felt that the facts alone would suffice at this time. All present seemed to agree that interested parties would certainly favor some plan which would alleviate the present congestion.

It was interesting to note that no great show of emotion appeared. In the past I have known such displays to distort and cloud basic issues.

The need for a solution to this problem is obvious. Other attempts, organized and otherwise have proved fruitless. It is my hope that this or some alternate plan will be acted upon. Those vitally concerned should give of their time and effort to see that an equitable solution is reached. Good luck to those who are trying to get action by action on their own part.

Fred E. Dionne

our young lads. Although a community rarely expresses its appreciation to its dedicated volunteers, these youth leaders must experience their own rewards as they note great influences they exert on our young men on the baseball field.

Sincerely,
Margaret Spengler

That Man About Town

By MAT

About every week we get mail addressed to us, c/o the Advocate. That's quite a compliment to our weekly bit. Some are pretty rough, some make sense. But, a vast majority are unsigned.

We suppose people feel that if Mat's column is unsigned, why not the same for them? They miss the point, though. This column is backed by the Advocate, its owners and editor — known people.

Mat and the Advocate do not mind pulling chestnuts out of the fire for some identified resident but we refuse to do so for some phantom. (Too, the writer's name is always withheld if so requested.)

Recently, we got an unsigned letter (which we will not print but it made some good points). This phantom said he seldom votes for Town Meeting members in the local elections because he doesn't know any of them. And why should he vote for somebody he doesn't know? He also wrote that there are too many TMM's.

The phantom is very right, particularly on the last point. The present membership, by statute, is 252 with 5, 6 or 7 voted in, each year, from each precinct for a 3-year term.

Mat has long advocated a reduction of TMM's. We have felt the 250 should be reduced to about 80. However, today, with the Town becoming more and more cityfied with more and more apartments, newcomers, etc., we feel the latter figure is twice too high.

Possibly, the answer should be 42 — 3 members from each of the 14 precincts — with one being elected each year for 3 years. In this way, candidates for TMM would be forced to make themselves known in their precinct, even more than candidates for Selectman. The competition would be terrific.

At any rate, sumpin's gotta be done. The present situation smells. Even 'tho the Town Clerk has issued statistics, here is Mat's finale for 1963:

Prec.	Openings	Candidates
1	5	6
2	6	6
3	4	5
4	6	5
5	7	5
6	5	7
7	5	7
8	5	6
9	6	5
10	5	6
11	7	14
12	6	6
13	6	8
14	8	10

* No contests in 5 precincts

Obviously Prec. 11 is the liveliest in town.

But, Mr. or Mrs. Phantom, there is one little flaw in your position. If you do not "know" any of the candidates in your precinct now, would you if there were less openings?

This phantom probably becomes a real ghost at Town Meeting time because he has probably never warmed a seat in the Town Hall, observing how and why $5-$6 millions of his dough is spent. The way to "know" your present TMM's, at least, is by your eyes (with the aid of opera glasses) from the balcony and your ears, if seated anywhere. Incidentally, the Town Meeting is a pretty good "take". And, don't forget, you've already paid 100 times the admission price of any show on Broadway!

[Correspondence]

In a recent letter to Mr. Stephan Mugar, President of Star Market Co., Helge Holst of Arthur D. Little, Inc. stated, "We have noticed in the Arlington Advocate of Jan. 24, reference to your desire to acquire some property in Arlington on Mass. ave., and further indicating that Star Market might have in mind plans for selling some or all their property on Route 2 to Arthur D. Little, Inc., for the sum referred to as $500,000."

Mr. Holst said further in his letter, that about three years ago, his company approached Star with a plan by which they desired to give the Metropolitan District Commission or the Metropolitan Transit Authority some land on the north side of Route 2 in exchange for some of their property on the south side, located east of their operations at Acorn Park. As a part of that plan Arthur D. Little, Inc. approached Star to see if they could purchase this land or make other suitable exchange arrangements to acquire some of the Route 2 property.

At that time, Star assured Arthur D. Little that Star had in mind proceedings for a development of a Star Market at this location, and accordingly the land was not for sale at any price. As a result the subject was not pursued any further by either company.

The letter went on to say that the Metropolitan Transit Authority is once again actively considering development of the land contiguous to Arthur D. Little's Acorn Park operations.

"We have been in touch with them (M.T.A.) in this connection and there has been brief reference to our previous proposal to them." Mr. Holst stated. "However, these plans are presently quite indefinite. Present conversations have not dealt with any property north of Route 2."

"At an appropriate time, if it seems at all desirable, we will be glad to review the matter with you to determine if there is any opportunity for common interest in this development."

It was announced recently that there are a few openings in the following evening classes at Arlington High School:

On Monday, Pottery; Wednesday, Children's Sewing; Thursday, Children's Sewing; Tuesday and Thursday, Intermediate English.

Those interested may register in person with the Adult Education Director.

Valentine Mail

Special containers, appropriately decorated for Valentine Day, Feb. 14th, have been set up in the lobby of local postoffices for the exclusive deposit of Valentines for delivery in the area served by carriers at that office. With Valentines running second to Christmas cards in volume, Postmaster Ephraim Martin stated that millions of handlings would be avoided and better delivery assured on these cards if the public would separate their local Valentines and mail them at the local post office instead of using the street letter boxes.

The success of the Valentine boxes last year was beyond the expectations of postal officials. Parents brought their youngsters to the postoffice to permit them to mail their Valentines in the special boxes and these were promptly transferred directly to the carrier cases. Cards placed in regular street letter boxes for local delivery must go through the same handlings as mail for all parts of the world.

Postmaster Martin called attention to two important changes in the mailing of Valentines this year. All heart shaped or odd shaped cards must be enclosed in a rectangular envelope, not less than 3 x 4 1/2 inches in size. Postage on sealed Valentines is now 5 cents an ounce, 4 cents for unsealed.

Air mail and special delivery services are normally heavy at Valentines Day and the public are reminded of the new air mail rate of 8 cents an ounce. Local cards placed in the special containers for neighborhood delivery may be deposited up to Feb. 13.

Distant cards should be mailed sufficiently early to permit processing, transportation and delivery. Storms in many parts of the country have effected normal mail operations, officials said.

The ice harvest from Spy Pond this year is of unusual excellence.

Last Saturday on a sled built for Daniel Tappan by Charles Gott, the carriage builder, five cords and one foot of stable manure was hauled from Boston to Arlington — the biggest load on record so far.

A hot box one of the cars on the ten o'clock train from Boston Tuesday forenoon, caused the derailment of a car and considerable delay to travel. The accident occurred just above the centre depot at Arlington.

There is an opportunity now at the office of the Advocate for a girl sixteen or more to learn typesetting, or for a bright boy sixteen or over to learn the printer's trade as an apprentice.

Papers were passed last week on the property known as the Robbins Spring Hotel. The property has been sold to be used as a school for girls. Hereafter, it will be known as "Marilyn", and will be in charge of the Sisters of Christian Education whose main house is in Attleboro. The hotel and "the nest" adjoining will accommodate one hundred. The place was built with the idea of light and air, and all the rooms have an outside exposure. Some time ago, Cardinal O'Connell visited the place and was pleased with the property and negotiations have been going on to purchase the place for a school for Catholic girls.

Arlington's new post office is to be beautified with a mural painted over the door into the superintendent's office where it can be seen by those entering the building.

It seems probable now that the chief figure of the mural will be Squaw Sachem receiving from an early settler, the fur coat with which as yearly payment the land was purchased. In the background will be a ploughman, symbolizing the town's agriculture, and a view of the center as it is today showing Robbins Memorial Town Hall, Lakes and trees will form "Squaw Sachem's setting."

Arlington residents will be given an opportunity next Saturday to witness the debut of a package of place mats.

The event will take place at the Town Hall during the Scouterall. The place mats were designed especially for the Boy Scouts of Sachem Council to sell in order to raise money to go to the Jamboree in California next summer. The place mats are reproduced in full color from water color sketches that depict The Old Manse, and The Old North Bridge in Concord, The Lexington Minute-man, and the Menotomy Indian in Arlington.

COLLINS CORNER

A sign of the times is an old expression, and maybe it could be used today when we see so little interest in the March election. Or it may be that those in office without any opposition are doing such a fine job they are deserving of such treatment. As Mat stated in his column, "it is the Town Meeting Members who appropriate your money, and they are the ones to watch."

At one time the term of office for the Town Clerk was one year, and it was a very short year for a person whose livelihood depended on his election. For many years the Town Clerk received a very small salary, but could keep for himself such fees as were allowed by law. Marriage licenses for instance were his own pocket money, and all the $2 bills collected, he could do with as he pleased, so that a lean year in matrimony forced him to pare down his budget. However, there were other fees and the very practical politician Clerk spent most of his life running for re-election and really was campaigning all the time.

A young couple would enter the office with sparkling eyes, and ask for a marriage license, and they would be met by a smiling congenial clerk. A real campaigning clerk would handle all these cases himself, so that the applicants would never forget the wonderful person who gave them their license.

In most cases, they would be asked if they intended to reside in that community, and if they said yes, then the nice man behind the counter would return to them their $2 as his wedding gift to the happy boy and girl. And if he was an efficient clerk he would make a note of the transaction, and file it away until it came time to register at the next town election.

Soon the happy couple would receive a note from the nice man in the Town Hall, telling them it was their civic duty to register, and if they would call such and such a number, transportation would be furnished. After that was completed, they would receive, a few weeks later, a letter from the nice man, congratulating them for being enrolled as voters, and don't forget to vote at the election in March. If they needed transportation they could call these numbers and the nice man, who by the way was running for re-election, would be delighted to assist them.

We talk many times of the smart Poles in the cities, but many of these could take lessons in the proper art of winning elections from the "men from the sticks."

Years ago an article was put in the Warrant to take away the fees from the Town Clerk, and have them turned over to the Town Treasurer. That would leave the Clerk with but a very small income indeed. So the night of the Town Meeting, the Town Clerk, who at that time was Thomas J. Robinson, came down from the stage and argued his own case.

So eloquently did he do this that the Town Meeting members voted him a fine increase in salary, which was more than what he was receiving combined, and voted to send all fees into the Town Treasury.

Since that time this has been the custom, and that license angle has been removed. So today Town Clerks are elected for three years, which is sensible, and from the nice treatment Arlington citizens have been receiving for years from this office, one could almost predict that it is the nearest thing to a permanent tenure.

The Advertising Club of Northeastern University has elected its officers for the coming year.

Affiliated with the Junior Advertising Club of Boston, the Club provides an opportunity for an interchange of ideas and information on technical subjects, new developments, and professional standards.

Those elected to offices include Michael J. Cronin, 43 Peter Tufts rd.

A junior in the N. U. College of Business Administration, Cronin has been elected secretary of the Advertising Society chapter.

WILD GAME DINNER

A "Wild Game" dinner for the benefit of the Arlington Boys' Club will be held Feb. 17. It is a kick-off drive to raise money for the tiling of the club pool.

Men and their sons need not be members of the club or residents of Arlington to attend. "Whitey" Kruger, owner and operator of Whitey's Sportland in Arlington Center, will sponsor the entire menu.

Every week since the beginning of the summer, a deposit has been made in a Frozen Food locker in Cambridge. Bass, Bluefish, Scallops, and possible Cherry-stone Clams will be some of the tastily prepared seafoods. Deer meat, Moose, Rabbit, Raccoon, Pheasant, Partridge, Duck and Geese will be expertly and delicately prepared by Chef Whitey.

Macaroni, lasagna, and spaghetti with two or three different sauces will be an added feature. A fresh garden salad will top off the buffet style "eat-all-you-can" dinner.

This will offer a fine opportunity for a dad to use the pool and also have a delicious deer steak if he didn't get the chance to hunt this year. Dave Mahoney, swimming director at the club pool stated this week that "the need for tile in the pool basin can easily be seen now as the

Ellen Montgomery Osborne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd B. Osborne of Hawaii, was recently married to Robert Wixtead Grant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Grant, 25 Wellington st., at St. James Church with Rev. McCarthy officiating.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a sheath gown in ivory satin, fashioned with a portrait neckline and elbow length sleeves. Her veil was ivory illusion held in place by a headdress of imported orange blossoms.

Maid of honor was Joan J. Chesleigh of New Hampshire. Junior bridesmaids were Joan French of Wollaston and Martha Trainor of Abington. Best man was Stanley Loring of Boston. Serving as ushers were Gerrit B. Osborne of Hawaii and Richard Broznanah of Newton.

The bride attended Bradford Junior College, University of Madrid, Spain and Katherine Gibbs School in Boston. She is now employed as a secretary to Jose Luis Sert, Architect, in Cambridge. The bridegroom attended Boston University and is now employed at Belmont Spring Water Co.

Following a wedding trip through Vermont, New Hampshire and Canada, the couple will live in Arlington.

At the third "Adventures in Music" concert sponsored by the DeCordova Museum, (on Feb. 2) 30 children, seven of them from Arlington, were invited to play with the professional orchestra.

Programs for the "Adventures in Music" concert are primarily intended to educate, not merely to entertain. They recognize children's innate good taste and openmindedness. Each program is built around a central theme which helps enhance the meanings and last impression of the music.

Over the course of several years, the children who attend regularly can expect to become familiar with a large number of familiar masterpieces. These compositions are chosen in consultation with the public school music teachers of the towns served by AIM; advance preparation by these teachers helps greatly to make the concerts themselves the climax of an effective educational experience.

Group To Hear About The Telstar

The Telstar story on film, with a scale model of the satellite, will be a special feature of the Arlington Heights Men's club meeting on Feb. 20, at the Park Avenue Congregational church parish hall. A roast beef dinner will be served at 6:30 by reservation, followed by a short business session, and the Telstar story at 8:30 p.m.

Frank Doyle, a resident of Arlington, and a foreman in the Chelsea District of the Bell Telephone Company will supervise the program and demonstrate from a large scale model of Telstar its elaborate relay system, antenna system, and solar cell construction, which utilizes the sun's rays for recharging batteries and for its own energy.

Following the film and explanation of the model satellite, there will be a short question and answer period from the floor.

ATTENDING a gala reception at the Carleton Beach Hotel in Bermuda are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Foster, Jr., of Hart and Foster Travel Service, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Curran of Walpole Travel. They were on a familiarization trip of Bermuda.

INCOME TAX

A Federal income tax return must be filed by every citizen or resident of the United States, including minor children, who had gross income of $600 or more in 1962. Alvin M. Kelley, Director of Internal Revenue for the Boston District, reminded taxpayers today.

If the taxpayer's 65th birthday is on or before Jan. 1, 1963, he is not required to file unless his gross income in 1962 was at least $1,200, Mr. Kelley said.

He added that even though a taxpayer does not have gross income of $600, he must file a return if any income tax was withheld from his pay, in order to get a refund.

There is one exception to the general rule. Self-employed persons such as businessmen, farmers, and most professional men must file a return and pay a self-employment tax if net earnings from

Funeral services were held on Tuesday, Jan. 29 at St. Joseph's Church in Salem and burial was at St. Mary's Cemetery also in Salem.

LUCY M. PRESCOTT

Funeral services for Miss Lucy M. Prescott, 84, formerly of 15 Russell st., were held in White Plains, New York. She died Jan. 29, in New York after a long illness.

An alumnae of Radcliffe, she taught in the New York City school system for 40 years.

She leaves a brother, Charles E. of White Plains, N.Y. and two nieces, Mrs. Catherine P. Jagels of White Plains, and Mrs. William B. Nevius of East Orange, N.Y. Burial was in Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

CHECKMATES

Floyd M. Thomas of Millis, and Frederick M. Hiscok of 24 Mystic Lake dr. recently watched the division of a king-size check for $1000 symbolic of the award they shared in the employee suggestion program of Liberty Mutual Insurance Company.

The suggestion submitted by the winning pair, employed in the Massachusetts Automobile Department, concerned rating, accounting and statistical coding procedures in the department. Company officials estimated the suggestion will result in an annual saving of $10,000. The award was one of the largest made in the more than 20-year history of the company's suggestion program.

Last Saturday, three members of the Planning Board presented several copies of the newly-published Comprehensive Plan Report to Robbins Library. Above, Librarian, Miss Judith Stromdahl, second right, accepts copies of the Report from Richard Mullis. Looking on are Chairman of the Board, Miss Murdena Campbell and David Leone.

Attorney David Leone pointed out that similar copies had been presented to Town officials and that other copies were being ing mailed to all present members of the Town Meeting.

The 68 page report is made up of 5 chapters, including over 20 maps and tables. The first chapter investigates Arlington's community resources and potential growth. The second chapter is an analysis of land use; the third an analysis of traffic circulation and rapid transit. Chapter Four will certainly be the most widely read one in the entire report since it analyzes each residential neighborhood in town and makes specific recommendations concerning schools, recreation facilities, residential values, apartments, problem areas, etc. The business districts that run along Mill Brook Valley bordered by Massachusetts avenue and Summer street are the subject of Chapter Five. This includes some general proposals for Arlington Center. Specific, detailed proposals for this congested area are now being worked on by the Planning Board under a related study with Federal financial assistance.

EGYPTIAN EXHIBIT

Two special previews Jan. 31 gave members of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts an opportunity to leisurely view the eagerly anticipated exhibition "Tutankhamun Treasures" before it goes on public view, Feb. 1-March 3.

These small, jewel-like treasures represent a selection from the more than 2,000 objects found in the tomb of the boy king Tutankhamun.

These antiquities, over 3,000 years old, have never before been allowed to leave Egypt, represent technically and artistically the best that Egyptian art has produced.

Hot Mocha was served at the entire preview and pourers included Mrs. Stephen Alphas of 31 Indian Hill rd.

BIG DOINGS

Arlington Post 39, American Legion will be represented at the Regional Conference in Springfield, Feb. 8, by Past Commander Joseph Daly and Past Commander Timothy Buckley.

Those attending these sessions will help National Commander James Powers organize his "Birthday Battalion" which will co-ordinate a birthday celebration, nationwide in scope, and at the same time will emphasize the significance of the American Legion-Americanism, child welfare, rehabilitation and national security.

Post Commander Stanford McEwen pointed out that the Legion National Commander is conducting 23 of these regional meetings during a five week period prior to the 44th anniversary of the founding of the world's largest veterans' organization, March 15 to 17.

Commander McEwen explained that Post 39 will undertake an extensive new membership campaign between now and the 44th birthday of the American Legion.

Any veteran of WW-1, WW-2, or the Korean War are cordially invited to visit Post 39 and learn more about The American Legion's programs for God and Country. Eligibility dates are April 6, 1917 to November 11, 1918; December 7, 1941 to September 2, 1945 and June 25, 1950 to July 27, 1953.

2300 Residential Sales Predicted

A spot check this week with leading Realtors indicates that the projected quota of 2300 residential sales in Metropolitan Boston during January will be reached, states Milton H. Shaw, president of the Greater Boston Real Estate Board.

Shaw, president of the Wayside Realtors in Sudbury, has had his research department study the buying pattern of residential sales in Metropolitan Boston for the past five years as determined by deed recordings.

Averages of Shaw's study indicate that the so-called slow selling winter months of January, February and March normally produce about 7000 residential sales 21.2 percent of the year's business.

Shaw warns brokers against unconsciously slackening their efforts in these winter months because of bad weather conditions.

He points out that although individual Realtors' sales patterns may vary greatly, deed recordings indicate that nevertheless 7000 sales will be made during these months. This amounts to 72 percent of the 11,000 residential sales expected in the three peak-selling months of the year, May, June and July, which furnish respectively, 10.0, 9.8, and 9.7 percent of the year's sales.

BOILER WARNING light at Town Hall was found on early Thursday, Friday and Saturday mornings. TELEPHONE RECEIVER was taken from a phone booth at Concord Pike and Highland ave. last week.

Park Forest owner, Eris Erickson, announces an Open House on Sunday, Feb. 10, from 2-5 p.m. at his new location on 1321 Mass. ave. in Arlington Heights.

Appointed

Congressman Torbert H. Macdonald of this District was appointed to membership on both the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee and the Government Operations Committee in the United States House of Representatives. This appointment marks the fourth consecutive term that Macdonald has had the unusual honor of holding positions on two of the major standing committees of the House, and the fifth consecutive term that he has held a seat on the powerful Committee on Commerce.

In expressing satisfaction with his new Committee assignments, Congressman Macdonald re-emphasized his interest in the problems currently besetting the United States in the economic field and his dedication to the protection of the interests of the people of his district and Massachusetts, which are directly affected by these problems.

Congressman Macdonald continues as the only majority member on the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee from the New England area. He stated: "I am pleased and gratified to be elected once again to the Commerce Committee. I believe that in these troublesome years our economic position in the world is equally important as our military position. We must do all possible to aid the healthy growth of commerce and industry in our home states."

Congressman Macdonald also pointed to the significant role played by the Government Operations Committee. He stated that: "The area of Government operations is extremely important at a time when we are attempting to cut the very high cost of governmental expenditures. This Committee is charged with the responsibility of policing the operation of Government activities at all levels, with its major aim to attempt to make the operation as economic and efficient as possible. I shall continue to do my utmost to see that the dollar of the taxpayer is spent in the best possible manner."

Check Passer Strikes Twice

At least two Mass. ave. business establishments were victimized by a false check passer last Thursday morning.

First report of a bad check was submitted by Briands Photo shop, stating that the name used by the man was Leon D. Rovenovitz. He was described as 35 years of age, of medium build and dark-haired.

Complaint of a bad check under the same name by a person matching this description was made by Morris Saitz of Beacon Jewelers.

LWV Makes Plans For Candidates, Questions to be Asked on Feb. 26

Candidates for office in the March 4 town election will take part in the Candidates Night of the Arlington League of Women Voters, Tuesday, Feb. 26 at 8 p.m. at the High School auditorium.

Mr. Charles H. Downs,

principal of the High School, will serve as moderator of the evening.

Mrs. Thomas Kenna Jr. and Mrs. Richard Bartholomew, of the LWV, are in charge of the arrangements for the meeting. Mrs. Kenneth Spengler is general chairman.

"Important town issues are to be settled soon in town government", says Mrs. Mark Bradford, president of the League. "Here is the opportunity for citizens to exchange their views on the issues. With the new Comprehensive Plan, problems of mass transportation, and the need for an addition to the high school facing us, every Arlington citizen will be affected by the candidates elected."

Candidates for Town Meeting will be especially identified by arm bands and will be available for person-to-person discussion in the social hour following the meeting.

The Candidates' Night is open to the public without charge. Ample time is to be allowed for questions and discussions. Refreshments will be served.

HEART ASS'N DRIVE

Describing modern cardiovascular research as "an inspired partnership of medical science and an enlightened public," Dr. Michael E. DeBakey, famed surgeon, researcher and educator today called for an unprecedented outpouring of support for the 1963 Heart Fund.

Dr. DeBakey, professor of surgery and chairman of the department of surgery at Baylor University School of Medicine, spoke before several hundred persons at the opening luncheon of the 1963 Heart Fund in the Sheraton Plaza.

The Massachusetts Heart Ass'n month-long campaign will be conducted through February and will be climaxed by a four-day solicitation culminating on Heart Sunday, Feb. 24, with a house-to-house canvass in every community in the commonwealth.

VALENTINE PARTY

The Woman's Auxiliary to the 71-year-old Baptist Home of Massachusetts will hold its annual Valentine party at the Home, 66 Commonwealth ave., Chestnut Hill, Newton, on Feb. 12.

The program will begin with a coffee hour at 10:30 followed by the regular meeting in the Chapel, a luncheon at 12 Noon in the Arts and Crafts room, and the distribution of gifts among the 128 residents during the afternoon.

Following the luncheon, each of the 128 members in the Home will be visited by an Auxiliary member and presented a Valentine package. The Valentine party arrangements are in charge of Mrs. Harry Earle, and Mrs. John Hilson both of Arlington.

CHURCH OF OUR SAVIOUR

Following Holy Communion at 8:00 a.m., the Family Worship and Church school will be held at 9:30 a.m. Morning Prayer will be at 11:00 a.m. with the Rev. Alan W. Jenks, guest minister, preaching the sermon.

Promoted

Library officials have announced the promotion of Mr. Ernest Grogan Brown to the post of head of the circulation department of the Robbins library. Formerly the first assistant in that department he succeeds Mrs. Esther McQuaid, who was appointed supervisor of children's library activities, following the resignation of Mrs. Elizabeth L. Toohy.

Mr. Brown who joined the staff of the library last summer was born in Houston, Texas. He graduated from Baylor University in Waco, Texas and is currently enrolled and working for a masters degree in the Simmons College School of Library Science.

Prior to his present appointment Mr. Brown was in charge of the statistical work of the circulation department and also did reader advisor and reference work.

Large Turnout At Farewell Tea

Children's Play

The Smith College of Belmont, Arlington and Waltham is again this year sponsoring a children's play, not only to raise money for the Scholarship Fund whereby a local girl is given a scholarship to Smith College, but also as a Community benefit.

The community benefit is explained by Mrs. Barbara Thompson, one of the Club's members, who is active in the New England Theatre Conference.

This Conference, made up of recognized experts in the field, has recently emphasized the importance of exposing children to live theatre as a means of developing their appreciation for fine theatre as adults.

The play to be given is an original folk tale with music by Marion Jonson, called "Greensleeves' Magic" — to sing, to laugh, to dance". In this play with singing and dancing, a gay ballad singer teaches three little princesses how to overcome fear and free the land from the titanic power of a wicked duchess.

The Club was fortunate in engaging the Emerson College Strolling Players who have demonstrated particular appeal to children. These actors will be directed by Miss Leah Ranson, Director of the Children's Theatre Department at Emerson College. Miss Ranson is also well known because of her own summer theatre in Summers, Conn. Miss Jane Desmon, the business manager for the Emerson players, has been handling the arrangements for the Smith Club.

"Greensleeves' Magic" will be given on Feb. 9 at 2:30 p.m. at the Belmont High School Auditorium. Tickets may now be obtained from Mrs. Irving Stein, 90 Cutter Hill rd. or at the door on the afternoon of the performance.

Smith Club members who are active in this worthy project include Miss Elizabeth Rice, 25 Woodland st., Mrs. Thomas Reid, 134 Gray st., and Mrs. James Burke, 81 Winchester rd.

Wentworth Faculty

Three Arlington residents have been named club faculty advisors at Wentworth Institute, according to a recent announcement by Dr. H. Russell Beatty, Wentworth president.

More than 50 hobby, technical and cultural clubs meet weekly at the school during the academic year for the development of extracurricular interests among students aside from the curriculum specialization. A faculty member serves as advisor for each organization, many of which are sponsored by professional societies.

Localities named were Alfred G. Pennino, instructor of Building Construction Technology, of 264 Park ave., advisor to Home Improvement club; Donald R. Remington, instructor of Physics, of 23 Pine Ridge rd., advisor to the Archery club and John F. Hines, instructor of Electronic Technology, of 9 Laurel st., advisor to the Hi Fi club.

TOWER CLUB

The Tower Mothers' club held its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Frank Morrissey. The program was members' talent night.

Co-hostesses were Mrs. Bernard Hutchinson and Mrs. David Dawson.

More than two hundred people attended a farewell tea given on Jan. 23 by the trustees and staff of the Robbins Library for Mrs. Elizabeth L. Toohy, supervisor of Children's Library activities. Mrs. Toohy is leaving the library after nearly fourteen years of service to become library director of the Adams Free library of Adams, Mass. The event, had been arranged so that trustees, librarians, teachers and others with whom she has worked closely for the benefit of many children could bid her farewell, was held in the Library hall.

Mrs. Toohy's responsibilities included the program and supervision of the main Junior library and eleven elementary school libraries, these latter having been established in cooperation with the School Department during the time of her service in Arlington.

She participated in many professional library activities of the Commonwealth. A member of the steering committee of the Eastern Massachusetts Children's Book Reviewing club, a member of the program committee for the Boston Herald Traveler Book fair last November, she also had served as president of the Charles River Library club and had been active on many other professional committees.

A graduate of the Simmons College School of Library Science, she is the wife of Joseph Toohy.

At the tea, Mrs. Toohy was presented with a bowl from the trustees by J. Milton Washburn, Jr., chairman of the Board and a money bouquet from the Librarian and staff. She also received a certificate of appreciation from the Arlington Girl Scouts, and gifts from the principals of the Arlington elementary schools, the Arlington Teachers club, the faculty and staff of the Cutter school, the librarians of the elementary schools, and a walnut fruit bowl made and given to her by students of the Junior High Industrial Arts school.

Pouring at the tea in honor of Mrs. Toohy, were Mrs. Alfred Yood, Miss Helen Enright, Miss Ruth Sampson, Miss Ruth Scallan, and Miss Eva Smith.

Serving on the committee for arrangements at the tea were Mrs. Alfred Yood, representing the trustees, and from the Robbins staff, Mrs. Dorothy Hart, Mrs. Margaret O'Brien, Mrs. Margaret Morash, Mrs. Marie O'Day and Mrs. Susan Casey. They were assisted by other members of the staff.

Mrs. Esther McQuaid, the newly-appointed supervisor of Children's Library activities of the library, received her bachelor's degree from Boston University and has studied at the Simmons College School of Library Science. Before coming to the Robbins Library in 1954, she had experience in the Medford public library as young adult librarian and also as a branch librarian.

In the local library, Mrs. McQuaid has held the posts of young people's librarian, and head of the circulation department. She is a member of the Massachusetts Library Ass'n., the Charles River Library club, The Greater Boston Book Review club, and the Round Table of Young Adult Librarians. In connection with the latter, she has contributed professional reviews of books for young people to the Library Journal, a national professional publication.

William Harvey, an English physician, first described the circulation of the blood through the body in 1628.

Jason Russell Society

The Jason Russell Society, Children of the American Revolution, met at the home of vice president Cynthia Clark on Shawnee rd. Fay Ogilvie, Betty Watson, Andrew Plummer, John Vivian and Richard McKown assisted in hospitality.

Sharon and Alison Trott, chairmen for the Tamassee DAR School project, told of its history, the Tamassee Indian legend, and the work the Jason Russell Society helps to carry on at this school in South Carolina for 240 resident-boys and girls and 230 day students from the mountain community.

Announcement was made of the C.A.R. wreath-laying ceremony at Doric Hall, State House, and the Governor's reception to be held on Feb. 22, followed by State C.A.R. luncheon.

Nominations for new officers preceded information on the National C.A.R. conservation project and the construction of a Nature Trail in George Washington National Forest in Virginia was discussed.

While showing his interesting slides Mr. Edgar I. Pasho, guest speaker, told the history of Benedict Arnold's attempt to capture Quebec City after the long trek through the Maine wilderness by way of the Kennebec River.

A play, "St. Mary's School Mystery" by Ann Vivian, based on the American Indian School in Springfield, S. D., was given by the following cast: Meredith Morton, Alison Trott, Betty Watson, Karen Friis, Estelle Maartmann-Moe, Cynthia Clark, Ann and David Vivian.

ELECTED

Mr. Herb Kletjian, 26 Kensington pk., has been elected secretary of the Association of Building Maintenance Companies of New England.

Mr. Kletjian, of the University Cleaning Co., was one of the founders of the Association, and has long been recognized as one of the building maintenance industries leading spokesmen.

The Association of Building Maintenance Companies is the trade association among New England firms engaged in the business of contract cleaning of business and commercial properties. It was founded in 1959 in order to establish a uniform code of practice and ethics in the industry.

The stethoscope was invented by a French physician, Rene T. H. Laennec, in 1816.

McGoldrick is a registered professional engineer in Massachusetts, is a member of the New England Gas Association and the American Gas Association, and has been active in the Boston Gas Company Junior Achievement Program, is a former member of the Contact Club of the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce and is a Cub Scouts Committee Member in Arlington.

Award 5 Grants

Five Boston scientists were among the 42 grants-in-aid and 5 post-doctoral fellowship awards presented by Muscular Dystrophy Association of America, Inc.

This was made possible by the successful Muscular Dystrophy Drive held this past fall.

A total of $478,418 was presented by Mrs. Lou Gehrig, widow of the famed New York Yankees baseball player.

Awards totaling $60,300 presented to the five Boston scientists were as follows:

1. Dr. John Gergely, Retina Foundation, Boston, $24,000 for molecular pathology of muscular dystrophy, and contractile proteins and their interaction with nucleotides.
2. Dr. Freddy Homberger, bio-research Institute, Inc., Cambridge, $10,000 for primary myopathy in Syrian hamsters.
3. Dr. Arnold S. Relman, Boston University, Boston, $10,800 for studies of the electrolyte and acid-base equilibrium of the intact rat diaphragm in vitro.
4. Dr. Clair M. Paine, Retina Foundation, Boston, $6,500 Stipend, $1,000 university allowance, for interaction of electrolytes with proteins of the myofibril.
5. Dr. John C. Seidel, Retina Foundation, Boston, $7,000 Stipend, $1,000 university allowance, for the interaction of the relaxing factor system of muscle with contractile proteins.

HIGH HOPES

The kick-off event in the "High Hopes Drive", conducted by the Boston High Hubbers, will take place in the Boston Garden on Friday night, February 1, 1963. The Drive is a month long campaign for the sole purpose of raising fund for the Leukemia Society, Inc. Members of the High Hubbers will circulate among the fans at the Boston Celtics double-header that evening, to solicit funds for this cause. Mr. Charles Rae of Arlington is on the committee to collect money during the halves of the game.
